Patchwork Update

February 2021

Dedicated to encouraging and broadening quilter's creativity, sharing quilting knowledge, exhibiting quilting accomplishments and contributing to the community.

Dear Members,

Hopefully, we will finally be able to enjoy a little normalcy! We will be having meetings the first Monday of each month at the Methodist Church at 7:00 pm. Monday, February 1st, will be our next meeting. We will have a general catch up meeting with show and tell, refreshments and a general gab session. We feel like we all need it. Debbie will soon be getting a list of programs ready for us. Di will be doing Round Tuits which is a great motivator to get more projects done. I for one, have a pile of half-finished ones! Community Quilts are working and have kits for us all to complete. Cynthia still needs help with the Quilt Show. Membership is due. It is $20 for the year. Don't forget the Block of the Month! Bring your completed friendship blocks so we can draw the winner!

Dates to remember:

Feb. 1 Meeting 7:00 p.m. at the church. The program will be Show-n-Tell and refreshments

Feb. 15 Board Meeting (please notice the change to the 3rd Monday) 7:00 p.m. at the church

Not much scheduled at this time. The mandates have been relaxed by the State but precautions will still be in effect. Please, wear a mask, social distancing will be in effect, and if you do not feel well, don't come!

Hope to see you Feb. 1st!

Deb O'Grady

Message from Round Tuit Coordinator (Di Wilsey Geer)

We all have them! Yes, you, you, and you. Oh, and me, I could be the queen or at least a princess-in-waiting, with the number of unfinished quilting projects I have stashed away like a feral squirrel filling his larder for our harsh Wyoming winters. Unless, of course, you took that time in 2020 during Covid-19 quarantine to efficiently finish them all-NOT!

On behalf of the CHQG board, we encourage you to complete the form provided here listing as many projects you'd like to attempt to finish this year. Hey, your goal could be just one quilt!

JANUARY 2021

Quilts and blankets have been delivered to Needs Inc Food Pantry this month. The priority of Needs is food security for Laramie County residents. They provide food and basic necessities of life (including our quilts) for those in need. Needs also operates a thrift store. They are very grateful of our gift of quilts.

Thank You to everyone working on these quilts. You are appreciated!

Char Nolan,
Quilt Distribution

Donna Dolan has kits ready on her porch.

Community Quilts is a whole membership job. Since we are not meeting regularly, we're making it easy for you to get kits to help complete.

Donna D has lots on her porch for you to pick up. From right in wagon are baby, youth, & a special kit for a quilt as you go with black strips ready cut included. Sew by machine or by machine & hand. Blocks are made! Then a red tub full of twin size kits and a bag of kits for strippy quilts ready for you to choose your favorite color 😊! There are 2 quilts ready to quilt behind tub & 1 quilt in front ready to bind. Binding goes quickly!

If you want to piece your top from your own fabric, you may leave it here or call Donna to have back & batt cut to order if you will quilt it yourself.

Char can give away all quilts we make! You are thanked in advance for your work! THANK YOU!

Community Quilts

Left: Three twin quilts were finished in December 2020. At least six people contributed to them.

Right: These baby quilts and receiving blankets were completed in December 2020.

Char gives these to several agencies such as VA baby baskets. All donations are gratefully received and often thanks are sent.

Above: Linda B. made another twin quilt and quilted it for the Community Quilts. She said she had extra blocks and though she would try a new setting. WOW!!! Thank you for your donation. Someone will be warm and loved beneath it. – Donna D.

Above: Community Quilts gave this family quilts for each member for their new home. This was the Thank You card they gave us.

Virtual Show and Tell

Left: Donna D.'s granddaughter Karleigh, age 14, visited her for a weekend and mentioned that she would like to make a quilt for a friend. She chose fabric from Donna's stash and a pattern from one of her books. Donna cut the strips while Karleigh sewed them. Karleigh finally told Donna that they should go to bed before midnight! By the time Donna got home from church on Sunday her granddaughter had all the strips sewn. Donna helped by cutting the blocks and sewed them before Karleigh had to go home. (Her granddaughter gets up at 5 a.m. to catch the school bus!). Donna added the borders her granddaughter had chosen and told Donna she could do the quilting, even though Karleigh has quilted in the past. Donna had such a fun weekend.

Above: Linda Brunner's show and tell this month is the Garlic Knot and the Alaska Rainbow. The Garlic Knot on the left was a fun and easy block to make and she has made it a few times. This design was a little harder because of the pieced sashing. The Alaska Rainbow on the right still needs to be quilted and she hasn't decided what designs to quilt in it.

---

Virtual Show and Tell

Left: Barb G. shows us her latest quilt called "Welcome Back to Wyoming". It measured 26" x 32". It was made for her friend who moved back to Cheyenne last Fall.

Below: Di wanted to share her fractured quilt in reply to Sue Frerich's request in the January newsletter. "Mine was an unplanned project completed at a quilt retreat held at the former Pinewood Cottage Quilt Shop in Story, WY. A group of quilter were making this project and allowed me to join in at the last minute. That's the beauty of retreats held at or near quilt shops! My top three tips in making a fractured quilt are 1) Precise Cutting 2) Label, Label, Label those strips, and 3) Press those seams open. Even if they are only 1/8 of an inch. I had no pattern to follow, only the verbal directions of one of the attendees. Thus, afterward, I did purchase the book titled Fabulous Fractures by Brenda Esslinger, which is a great resource. I used an extra panel as my backing, so one could simply lift the hanging quilt to see what the original / pre-fractured fabric looked like, as seen in the second photo." Thank you Di!

CHQ Block of the Month

This year we have 12 blocks we can work on to create our CHQ 2021 BOM quilt using different methods. Some blocks will have recommendations for cutting and/or piecing, or provided paper piecing options, while templates will always be given. Directions and templates were e-mailed to our members and put on our new Facebook group page (Cheyenne Heritage Quilters) which can be found in the files. However, if you do not like a block or want more of a challenge just slip in another 9 inch finished block (9 1/2 inch unfinished block) and show it off!!!

Putting this quilt together for the guild has been challenging but fun and I hope everyone can have fun with Debbie and me while we complete the CHQ 2021 BOM.

Quilt Retreat Packing Checklist

By Di Wilsey Geer

Yes, someday in a faraway galaxy (ok, hopefully soon in 2021!) we will return to our full capacity attendance quilt retreats! When that happens, let's be ready with our handy retreat packing checklist. A few blanks have been left for you to add your own items/notes.

The top two tips on attending a retreat are A) Be well rested with a positive attitude. Retreats tend to be high energy with a great deal of communication and the knowledge sharing seems never ending. Friendships are forged; you want to be the best you! B) Go prepared. Have your fabric cut and in project bags or boxes along with patterns, threads, rulers, etc. Overpack on projects, you never know when, for whatever reason, you want to change it up and move on to a different project.

CHQ Quilting Tips

Quick Quilting tips from the Newsletter Editor:

Ripping seams out is no fun but necessary. So some creative ways to think about it is that you are doing a frog stitch... RIP IT RIP IT RIP IT.

Another view is to think of yourself having a date with Jack the Ripper.

Okay maybe Jack the Ripper should be saved for Halloween.

If you use a rubber seam ripper try using the reverse end to pick up those stubborn threads that don't want to leave your fabric piece.

For more seam ripping tips please view the "10 Ways to Seam Rip" from Marci Baker with the pros and cons of the different methods (<https://youtu.be/rHxKBvaa4GQ>). What is your favorite Seam Ripping method?

Control your binding

By Angela McPherson

I went to Boise, ID for a quilt show before I moved to Cheyenne. At the quilt show I saw cute little "Binding Babies". But I didn't want to spend so much money on one "Binding Baby" when I always seem to buy multiples of any notion. So my husband took me to an antique store where I purchased some clothes pin hangers.

Since then I have found them on Amazon which are called Honey-Can-Do Round Wooden Clothespins. I just piece my binding together as normal, slip the binding in the slot of wood, and turn it until the binding is all wrapped around the clothes pin. Then I either keep the binding on the side of my machine or sometimes even on the floor. This prevents me from running my chair wheels over the binding, from the dogs sitting on it (me wondering why is there so much resistance), and if I have extra (I normally do because who has time to actually measure it and make the binding the length you actually need... okay maybe that's just me) then it's ready to be used for smaller items like wall quilts or mug rugs. How do you control your binding?

CHQ Quilting Tips

Continued

Let's continue with controlling your binding. I showed Di how I controlled my binding and then she showed me how she controlled hers. She rolls her binding on an empty spool of toilet paper. Then adds a piece of string and ties it so that she can put the string around her neck. The binding lays on her chest. Just pull the binding off as you need it.

Lost and Found

Right: This nice clasp bag of handwork was left behind after CHQ meeting months ago. Anyone claim it? It's on Donna D's front porch.

Call Donna if interested or knowledgeable.

Scraps Giveaway

Jo Ellen wanted to share that she has a friend who has two boxes of scrap fabric to give away. If you are interested, please give Jo Ellen Mass a call at 307-634-9402.
