Happy 4th of July

President's Message - Diana Clark

And the rest of the story. We made it to atual summer/. Hot yet? Fireworks, picnics, family, and fun. What a way to start a month. Let's show some American Spirit and sew in Red, White, and Blue! Can't wait to see some beautiful quilts. I plan on getting some Round Tuits done as soon as I an see again.

"I only buy quilt supplies when I need it for a project. Or because its on sale. Or I have a coupon I need to use. Or because its pretty. Or because I want it!"

July 1 Program - Judy Gilmore - Let's Draw

Judy Gilmore is a teacher. Even more than creating, the chance to share new things with others is her favorite thing to do. And art is one of the things she has spent a lot of time teaching. Judy graduated from Hastings College, in Hastings, Nebraska. She told me some of her favorite subjects in school were sculptural such as ceramics, sculpture and even welding. She also attended the Boston Art Institute for a summer before beginning to teach Art at Scottsbluff Junior High.

When she resigned to raise her children she still taught art part-time in the Scottsbluff elementary schools through a program funded by the Scottsbluff Arts Center, and she taught private art lessons at her home pretty much always and wherever she lived. Once she moved to Cheyenne, she took a position doing graphic art with Align (Wyoming Student Loan), but because she loves to teach, Brenda at the Quilted Corner, allowed her to lead the "Thangles" classes for many years. One of her favorite aspects of teaching "Thangles" classes was discussing different settings that could be done with a stack of traditional sampler blocks. This month, She will be sharing some thoughts about drawing that will hopefully help each of us as we find our own quilt path.

Bring your favorite pencil and we'll put it to use!

New Members Corner - Helen Jarvis

No new members in June, so welcome someone new to you!

A note to new members about Volunteering

There are many ways to volunteer in the club. You can offer to serve on a committee, sew Community Quilts, help set up and take down for the programs and so on.

And your ideas are always welcome. Please don't hesitate to speak with any member or board member, if you have an idea for a workshop, if you need help to figure out a technique or if you have information to share that you've found online, in a magazine article, quilt show, online or wherever.

We love to hear about what's happening in the world of quilting, and we especially love it when you volunteer to demonstrate something or help out on a committee. We are so glad to have you in our club.

August Quilt Social - Robin Dempsey

Plan to open your calendar for the monthly meeting on Monday, August 5th. You won't want to miss our Quilt Shower! There will be loads of fun, some good goodies, fabulous friendship and awesome "gifts" for some lucky attendees! Dare we say, this will be THE event of summer?!?! You won't want to miss it.

Remember to remind the customer not to put their quilts in plastic. Pillow case or wrapped up in a cotton sheet. Those old quilts that grandparents made, if you wash them use a mild detergent and color catcher just in case the fabric bleeds some of the color

We have many good workers still making quilts! Way to go. The next project will be to supply quilts to Houses for Humanity. We may need more than 50 twin quilts for family members. That's our goal this year. Pick up kits at our monthly meetings. Recently we gave six twin quilts to Safe House.

Thanks for all the hard work.
